THE ISSUE MADE.

A Washington dispatch of Tuesday says: About twenty Republican Senators met in caucus this morning. Edmunds submitted a resolution from the Judiciary Committee embodying views of the Republican members respecting the rights of the Senate to information from the hands of the Executive Departments. The resolution was approved, and it was decided that it shall be offered in open session of the Senate.

The resolutions are three in number: The first declares that the action of the Attorney-General in refusing to furnish information when called for by the Senate, no matter what his motives may have been, was reprehensible. The second declares that when the Senate has called or may call upon the heads of departments for information regarding removals from office and the information is not furnished as requested, the Senate will not confirm the appointee. The third condemns the disregard of the law which requires that in the selection for office, preference shall be given to the honorably discharged Union soldiers and sailors. It is understood that the resolution be formally laid before the Judiciary Committee at its next meeting with the view of having them reported to the Senate immediately thereafter.

The resolutions reported by Senator Edmunds from the Judiciary Committee are accompanied by a long report. The resolutions read as follows:

Resolved, That the foregoing report of the committee on Judiciary be agreed to and adopted.

Resolved, That the Senate hereby expresses its condemnation of the refusal of the Attorney-General under whatever influence, to send to the Senate, copies of papers called for by its resolution of the 25th of January, as set forth in the report of the committee on Judiciary. It was in violation of his official duties, subversive of the fundamental principles of this government and the good administration thereof.

Resolved, That it is, under these circumstances, the duty of the Senate to refuse its consent and advice to the proposed removals of officers when documents and papers in reference to suspended officials or personal misconduct are withheld by the Executive or any head of a department when deemed necessary by the Senate, and called for in considering the matter.

Resolved, That the provisions of section 1,754 of the revised statutes declaring "that persons honorably discharged from the army or naval service, by reason of disability resulting from wounds or sickness incurred in the line of duty shall be preferred for appointment to such offices, provided they are found to possess the business capacity necessary for a proper discharge of the duties of such office," ought to be faithfully and fully put into execution, and that to remove or to propose to remove any such soldier whose faithfulness, competency and character are above reproach, and to give his place to another who has not rendered such services, is a violation of the spirit of the law and of the practical gratitude of the people, which the Government of the United States owes to the defenders of constitutional liberty and the integrity of the Government; all of which is respectfully submitted.

[Signed:] GEO. F. EDMUNDS, JOHN J. INGALLS, J. R. McMILLAN, GEO. F. HOAR, GEO. F. WILSON, WM. M. EVARTS.

The House Committee on Public Lands has decided to recommend the forfeiture of the unpatented land grant of the California and Oregon and California roads. Henley was instructed to report his bill to the House. There were four votes against the bill in the committee. The men who opposed it were Van Eaton, of Mississippi, Jackson, of Pennsylvania, Stephenson, of Wisconsin, and Strate of Minnesota. The minority was in favor of a bill that forfeited the grant along the unfinished portion of the roads.

It is rumored that A. Craig, of San Francisco, is booked for the United States District Attorneyship, for which position Justice Field had indorsed ex-Congressman Glascock, and Congressman Henley is backing Dennis Spencer, of Napa. In the light of the past however, the dark horse will again be winner, in all likelihood.

THE HOME OF MONOPOLY.

The Oakland Times of a recent date publishes an article on monopoly which is so full of truth that we reproduce it entire:

The birthplace and home of monopoly seems to be centered in California. No other people in any other State or Territory or in any other nation, would endure the highway robbery of the people that is being carried on by every enterprise or deal capable of being controlled by the few, and monopolized at fabulous profits against the many in this State.

Take the telephone service alone, small as it seems, yet the company in Oakland is taking from the people forty-eight dollars a year, on every instrument in this city. In every other State but this, we are credibly informed, the service is had at an average rate of twenty-four dollars per year and no charge for switching anywhere on the line, but here in Oakland they must fall into the spirit of monopoly and charge forty-eight dollars a year rental for each machine. Not content with this hundred per cent, they must add the cost of switching which partakes of the petty larceny character. It is about time for the people to take up this telephone business, shake the company up and see if they can't be regulated.

Next to the telephone in colossal proportions comes the California Insurance Company association, or Board of Underwriters, who have cornered all the companies doing business in this State in the most stupendous and gigantic monopoly ever sprung upon an already grasping community, who in the struggle and race for possible existence against all other monopolies, are caught by the neck with an advance all along the line, of double rates of insurance in many cases. You ask a respectable insurance agent about the raise and he will blush for shame, but tell you it is fixed by the Board and he cannot help it. The only possible chance for an explanation is that their losses are so heavy. When cornered as to the location of their losses, you will find they all occur in the East, and the California business is all profit; but as this is the home of monopoly, the people being used to it, the insurance companies attempt to collect from the people here to reimburse them for losses in the East where the people will not permit such outrages.

The current rate of fire insurance in this state should not be more than one-half as high as it is in Illinois or Wisconsin, yet it is five or six times as high simply because our merchants and business men will submit to it.

In California the monopoly system seems rampant, from the head of government down to the voter, who tries to get a monopoly by herding his kind into a crowd that he may control the price and market of votes.

The next legislature should put a limit upon the price of every product made or sold within our border and should be far-reaching enough to cover railroads, water companies, gas companies, insurance companies, banks, newspapers and every possible monopoly, of every kind. Legislate for one session in favor of the people and see if the prosperity and fruits of California industry would not be a little more evenly distributed among the people, and a little less suffering among the poor.

Twenty years ago Senator Ramsey, of Minnesota, gave his wife her choice between a $200 block of land in Minneapolis and a new Spring bonnet. Mrs. Ramsey inquired in the bonnet market, and accepted the block of lots instead. It has just been sold for $90,000. There is no moral to be drawn from this, because the lady died two years ago, so that she would personally have been better off if she had taken the Spring bonnet.

The anti-Chinese agitation through the Pacific Coast has caused an influx of Chinese to San Francisco. The average weekly arrivals by rail and water from the interior and coast points, number 1,000.

The name of ex-Senator Blanche K. Bruce, of Mississippi, is proposed for the vacancy on the Civil Service Commission, caused by Mr. Eaton's resignation.

Messrs. Moody and Sankey have arranged to visit Mobile, New Orleans, Memphis, and other important points South. They may break it up.

The Transcontinental Association is broken to pieces, and the public may indulge in hopes of a big fight among the railroads.

Glad to learn that Henry Watterson is improving. Don't want any newspaper men to die this year.

Attorney-General Garland will not resign.

General Von Moltke is seriously ill.

GENERAL SHERMAN AND THE PRESS.

General Sherman said to a New York Tribune reporter Monday: "The tyranny of the press in this country is becoming simply awful. It is worse than the old tyranny of the slaveholders. It will cause a worse revolution than slavery did, and it will not be bloodless either. Why, the gossip of the press has destroyed the social freedom of intercourse. It has made men afraid of their neighbors. It has led to a general suspicion and distrust. No man can open his mouth any more and be sure that his confidence will be respected. No man can write to his acquaintance and be sure that his letter will not appear in print. There is no comfort left in the land. I am old, and cannot be hurt by this condition of things, but it will be the bane of the rising generation, and they will be obliged to rebel against it. There will be some sort of trouble, and then the country will settle down again for awhile. It seems as though the man who serves his country most is the target for the greatest amount of abuse in the press." He then said: "I am not going to give up St. Louis as my place of residence. My home is there, and I am as nicely fixed as any man in the country. During the next two years I shall live in New York, while my boy is studying in Yale's scientific school. I have villas in New Jersey, houses in Fifth Avenue, apartments in desirable localities and rooms in half a dozen hotels offered for my accommodation here, but I shall probably take my old rooms in the Fifth Avenue Hotel."

Dividends of American Incorporated Mines.

The Bulletin says: Mining for the precious metals is carried on in most of the Pacific States and Territories, and also in a few of the Atlantic States. There are gold mines in Georgia and the Carolinas and in Vermont. The richest copper mines of the country are in Michigan. A good lead mine has been worked in Missouri for some years. There is also a lead mine in Kansas, and a mica mine in Vermont. Last year there were dividend-paying metal mines in at least fourteen of the States and Territories of the Union. From our own sources of information and published advices we have been able to locate and name fifty dividend-paying mines in this country last year. These fifty mines paid 266 dividends, amounting to $3,088,989. We also know of three dividend-paying mines in Mexico, which paid three dividends of $207,635 last year.

Field and Cleveland.

The most interesting piece of news in Washington is the report that a rupture between the President and Justice Field has occurred as the result of the latter failing to secure the nomination of Maynard to be Marshal of California. Since the appointment of Mr. Franks, Judge Field has had several interviews with the President upon the subject, and it is said that last Monday he went to the White House to insist that the nomination should be withdrawn. This the President declined to do, and it is understood that some warm words passed between them. Finally the Justice went away saying that he would never darken the doors of the presidential mansion again.

There has been a lull in the fight between the President and the Senate, but it is expected that the struggle will be renewed during the present week. Two resolutions as to the general subject of the duty of the President to furnish information and papers affecting Government officers suspended or appointed wera last week referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and a report will probably be presented from that Committee, as well as the Committee on Judiciary, which has had under consideration the refusal of Attorney-general Garland to supply certain information asked for. The latter committee, it is said, holds strongly that all papers relating to appointments or suspensions are part of the archives of the Government, and as such are for the information of the Legislature as well as the Executive.

S. B. Cox writes from Constantinople that he probably shall return to America in the Spring.

Morrison's TARIFF BILL.

It is stated on good authority that Morrison will try to dragoon his tariff bill through the House with as little discussion as possible. On the other hand, the Republicans will endeavor to secure thorough consideration of the measure. The first struggle will come in the committee on the question whether representatives of the various interests affected by the bill shall be heard orally or by brief. Morrison desires to cut off speeches before the committee and require the people who wish to oppose the bill to submit briefs. It is generally understood that briefs would not be read. When the bill is reported from the committee and comes up in the House, it is said that it will be the aim of Morrison to cut the debate as short as possible and bring his party followers to its support with strict party discipline. The report that Randall would not oppose it is denied by him. He says he will do all in his power to prevent the passage of any measure which will injure the manufacturing interests of the country. The wool and timber clauses of the bill are especially condemned by the Congressman from California. Printed copies of the bill were laid before the House Committee on Ways and Means Tuesday, but no formal discussion was had.

Army Nominations Withdrawn

The President has withdrawn the following army nominations, made on the 8th inst.: Lieutenant-Colonel Nelson B. Sweitzer, to be Colonel; Major Lewis Merrill, to be Lieutenant-Colonel; Captain Edward J. Spaulding, to be Major; First Lieutenant Angus, to be Captain, and Second Lieutenant Alonzo L. O'Brien, to be First Lieutenant. The action of the President practically settles a very important question in military promotion. The effect is that an officer who has been incapacitated for active service, though not yet retired, is not competent to fill a higher position than that for which he has been found disqualified. The promotion upon which the question hinges was that of Major Lewis Merrill of the Seventh Cavalry to be Lieutenant-Colonel of the Eighth Cavalry, to succeed Lieutenant-Colonel Schwitzer. Had Major Merrill been promoted he would soon be retired with the increased rank and pay of Lieutenant-Colonel. As the case now stands, he will be retired as Major, and the next Major below him, Major John K. Miner, Fifth Cavalry, will receive the promotion.

The Army Promotions.

The New York Times' Washington special says: The opinion at the War Department is about unanimous that Generals Howard and Terry will succeed Generals Hancock and Pope. The prejudice that exists among army officers toward Howard's promotion finds frequent expression, yet it is admitted that his military services and standing on the army register entitle him to an advancement to one of the two places to be vacant next month. There is not so much certainty as to the two colonels who will be selected for promotion to the grade of Brigadier-General. It is known that General Sheridan desires Colonel Merritt's promotion on account of his thorough knowledge of frontier service, his experience in Indian warfare and his physical capacity to perform active service; the latter qualification is one of great importance, in view of the fact that at least three at present of the Brigadiers are physically unable to perform continuous active service for two consecutive days by reason of age or disability arising from the casualties of the rebellion, and the same is true of most of the colonels of the line.

Federal Nominations.

The President Tuesday sent the following nominations to the Senate: James B. Groome to be collector of Customs, and J. Freeman Rawlin to be Naval Officer of Customs in the District of Baltimore, Md.; Pendleton King of North Carolina, to be Secretary of Legation at Constantinople. Edward L. Parson, Indian Agent at Ouray, Utah, has resigned.

John B. Gough died in Philadelphia yesterday afternoon.

The San Francisco Chronicle says:

In the account of the arrest published in the Winnemucca Silver State it is stated that Marshal Ireland had much difficulty in securing any one to identify Cannon. Ex-Senator Stewart of Nevada, who knew Cannon well, declared that none of the four men in the sleeping car was the apostle. This was rather singular conduct on Stewart's part, as Cannon could not have changed so much in a few months as to defy recognition.

The San Francisco Post says:

It looks as though the Carson Mint is to be reopened, which is a matter for congratulation. If the intention in closing it was not to affect the coinage by making an excuse for limiting the amount as nearly as possible to the least allowed by law, then it was very foolish in Secretary Manning to allow it to appear so, at a critical time, while Congress was in session.

Richard Kirman, Esq., who has for some time used his private means in the development of a permanent ledge on the west side of Mount Davidson and east of Washoe Lake, feels certain of ultimate success. Mr. K. is a solid man and business all through, and should he succeed in his mining venture his efforts will prove of incalculable benefit to the whole of Western Nevada.—Carson Tribune.

W. M. Stewart may not be the best, most acceptable, most eligible man for the U. S. Senate, and in strict construction of the term resident, he may be a little outside of the pale, but most assuredly he is the most commanding in appearance and best looking.—Carson Tribune.

A CHINESE VICTORY.—Under this heading the Carson Appeal gives the following significant item: On Tuesday Mr. Gibson, who started out a vegetable wagon to compete with the Chinese, was compelled to take it off. He began business with a large route, and seemed in a good way of making money, but the Chinese wagons followed just behind him, noted all his customers and offered them a large reduction to quit patronizing him. So many families accepted the bribe that he was compelled to suspend business. Mr. Gibson had the misfortune to be born in America and must pay the penalty.

DUNHAM & KELSEY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18th.—Congressman Woodburn, of Nevada, will speak on the silver question on Wednesday night. Senator Foley, of Nevada, who has been here attending the executive meeting of the Bi-metallic Association and who left here for home last night, has been very active both in this city and in New York in breaking down the prejudice against free coinage.

Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, is preparing an elaborate answer to the speech of Congressman Findlay, of Maryland, on the silver question. Senator Jones is looked upon by the Senators generally as the best posted man on the silver question in the country.

SUIT BROUGHT.—The Winnemucca Silver State, of Tuesday, has this "Harry I. Thornton, Jr., of San Francisco, by M. S. Bonfield, his attorney, brought suit yesterday in our District Court, against the North Belle Isle Mining Company, a California corporation, to recover the sum of $40,000, for alleged trespass upon the Nevada mine, in Tuscarora Mining District, Elko county, and for a perpetual injunction to prevent future trespasses. The defendant has a mine adjoining the Nevada on the south, and it is alleged that by tunnels, drifts, stopes and cross cuts has entered the Nevada mine at a depth of several hundred feet, and is extracting large quantities of valuable ore therefrom, etc. An order to show cause why a survey should not be made of the underground workings of the North Belle Isle mine was granted by Judge Bigelow, and Feb. 25th is set for hearing the motion for an order of survey. The next great mining suit from "Squabble Gulch" will likely be tried at Winnemucca. A similar suit was brought in Elko a few weeks ago, but the defendant removed it to the Circuit Court of the U. S. at Carson. It is said that the present suit can not be so removed, as both parties are citizens of California."

GO SLOW.—The Susanville Advocate remarks:

During the past week there has been whisperings of vile deeds committed in our midst that shame the name of humanity. That these whisperings have obtained more or less credence is plain, but that they rest upon a strong basis of fact is not by any means clear. There seems to be a disposition among some of our people to view a thing as true and unsupported as a sermon that has the semblance of probability, and this disposition is apt, if it be not curbed, to lead to serious trouble. Rumors are easily shattered, a life is easily taken and careless and untruthful words have led to these results time and again. One affair, concerning which much has been said, is now being investigated by cool-headed and law-abiding men and pending their inquiries it would be wise for those who jump at conclusions to "go slow." Our advice is dicted solely by a desire that the innocent shall not suffer, not that the guilty shall be protected.

WALLACE'S REPLY.—The Truckee Republican says: In response to the letter written Mr. J. N. Wallace, directing him to discharge the Chinamen in his employ, the Secretary has received the following reply:

Reno Nevada Feb 15th, 1886
Mr. O'Neill, Secretary Anti-Chinese Club.

Sir—Yours of the 12th inst. at hand and contents duly noted. I don't consider that it is any of your business or any of the citizens of Truckee, whether I employ Chinese or not, as I am a citizen of the State of Nevada but I will say to you that I wrote Quong Sing Lung, some ten days ago, that he would have to move his men off my land. Whether he has done so or not I do not know. That is all I can do. I shall not run them off and if the people of Truckee want to get rid of them, they can take such steps as they see fit.
Respectfully, J. N. WALLACE

NATURAL CURIOSITY.—The Austin Reveille says that Frank Dixon while cutting logging for the Manhattan Mining Company came across a freak of nature. He cut a trunk of a tree which was about a foot in diameter, into slabs and was surprised to see a hub of mountain mahogany running through the center of it. The pine had grown completely around the hard wood and imbedded it as solidly as if it was a part of it. How it got there is a mystery.

Watch your canary birds closely when you hang them out in their cages, for the sparrow hawk and the shrike, or butcher bird, are ever on the alert to throttle the warblers and take them to George Becker's for lunch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Judge McAllister, of Alaska, who was suspended by the President last August, together with the Governor, District Attorney and United States Marshal of the Territory, had an interview with President Cleveland to-day, who said he had never believed in any of the charges preferred against the Judge, but he had been removed with the other officers of the Territory, that another Judge had been appointed, and that it was impossible for him to do anything in the matter. The Judge requested the President to state publicly that he had been removed for political reasons, and because of the change in the administration, but the President declined to take any action. Judge McAllister then laid a statement of his case before the Senate Judiciary Committee, and that body, of which Mr. Edmunds is Chairman, and Mr. Evarts a member, has the case before it and will also consider the constitutional question involving the authority of the President to remove a United States Judge. Judge McAllister is prepared to submit his constitutional question to a court. He denies the power of removal to the Executive, and many eminent lawyers sustain him in the position he takes, and his argument before the Supreme Court of the United States and the reply of the Attorney-General will be awaited with interest.
